INDO-CHINA AIRLIFT BEGINS—A giant United States Air Force C-124 Globemaster troop carrier loads French personnel at Orly Airfield, near Paris, as the airlift to embattled Indo-China begins. With the shrinking of the defense perimeter at besieged Dien Bien Phu making it almost impossible to parachute in troops, it is possible that the replacements will be deployed to the vital Red River Delta area, after their arrival at Saigon. ### Parachute into Garrison to Help Besieged

Reds are Sworn to Finish Off Flaming Dien Bien Phu

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—French Union volunteers were parachuted into flaming Dien Bien Phu today to reinforce the garrison which the Communist Red attackers had sworn to "finish off" in a new vicious attack.

An undisclosed number of reinforcements tumbled from low-flying transport planes into the steamy early-morning mist which shrouded the shrunken and surrounded defense perimeter.

A French high command spokesman said the mist obscured the tiny airstrip segment, to which the paratroopers jumped, from Communist gunners.

Less Than 100 Drop

The paratroopers were believed to number less than 100 men. But military observers pointed out it was a daring move to attempt to parachute even one man onto the constricted battleground.

A spokesman disclosed that another reinforcement unit of 90 men had been parachuted to Dien Bien Phu Friday and hundreds of pounds of urgently needed supplies had been air dropped Sunday and today.

French bombers and French naval fighters from the aircraft carrier Arromanches straddled and bombed the Red positions around Dien Bien Phu in an effort to silence the Red artillery during the parachute drop.

Rumor Group Annihilated

French headquarters said the transports dropping the paratroopers were forced to make several runs over the postage-stamp sized drop zone.

The French spokesman would not discuss unconfirmed reports that one entire group of paratrooper reinforcements had fallen behind enemy lines and had been annihilated.

Nevertheless, the fortress commander, Brig. Gen. Christian De Castries, had instructed that no large scale reinforcements be dropped, partly because of the hazard of the operation and partly because of the extreme crowding of the small area left to the French defenders.

Wind Damages John Crest Farm Near Equality

A large implement shed on the John Crest farm, 1½ miles south-east of Equality, was destroyed by the wind and rainstorm which hit the area Sunday around 3:30 p. m.

Witnesses in the area described the destructive force as a miniature twister which struck with lightning swiftness and was gone.

Parts of the shed were scattered over a nearby field. The storm also tore down a power line, numerous tree branches and turned over a wagon near the shed. Members of the Crest family were in the house at the time but were not injured. The house was not damaged.

The downpour was described as extremely heavy for several minutes in Equality and immediate area and reminded residents of the community of last June's destructive windstorm.

Meet, Seek Shot In Arm for Sick Coal Industry

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Governors of coal-producing states, government officials, bituminous and anthracite operators, and mine union leaders met today in a common effort to do something about the sick coal industry.

Pennsylvania Gov. John S. Fine asked governors of 15 other coal-producing states to join in a "permanent and continuing organization" to deal with the industry's plight—low demand, unemployment, and competition of natural gas, domestic fuel oil, and foreign residual oil.

Invited to today's lunch-time conference were Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay, President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, industry officials, and the governors of Alabama, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Missouri, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Utah, Virginia, West Virginia and Wyoming.

It is no secret that Fine and other coal-conscious officials expect the conference to attract the attention of the White House and Capitol Hill.

McKay is prepared to repeat a statement made several weeks ago to leaders of the anthracite industry. He told them to work out a solution and "if it is economically feasible, I will do everything I can to help."

James Parsons Dies, Body Here

James Parsons, 37, husband of the former Martha Alice Clark of Harrisburg, died yesterday at the Memphis Veterans hospital and his body has been brought to this city. It now is at the Gaskins funeral home.

Mr. and Mrs. Parsons and daughter, Eanna, resided at Bowling Green, Ky., where he was a salesman for a chemical supply house. No funeral arrangements had been made.

Heavy Rains in Illinois, Quake in California

Three-Inch Upstate Fall Fills Basements And Swells Creeks

By United Press
Thunderstorms swept the Midwest again today as fire departments fought with pumps to clear away floodwaters that inundated thousands of homes during weekend cloudbursts.

The Weather Bureau said the new thunderstorms might spawn an isolated tornado or two in the area between Topeka and Hutchinson, Kan.

Householders and work crews cleaned up debris in California from an earthquake which hit Sunday, centering in the Gilroy-Holister area.

The quake set off road-blocking landslides and cracked the floors and walls of hundreds of homes.

The Chicago area was hard hit by a series of week-end squalls which dumped almost three inches of rain on some sections in a matter of hours.

Thousands of basements were flooded in north and northwestern suburbs of Cook County. Many creeks and rivers overflowed their banks, sending water into the living rooms of hundreds of homes.

Canoes and rowboats were pressed into service to carry food, coffee and dry blankets to marooned residents.

The inundated areas included parts of Des Plaines, Oak Park, Franklin Park, River Forest, Riverside, Stone Park, Winnetka and Highland Park.

Picked Poor Part of Town for Burglary

CHICAGO (AP)—A noisy prowler picked the wrong section of the city to rattle doorknobs Sunday. Anthony Stugaitis, 26, mode so much noise he disturbed police Sgt. George McCarthy at his precinct desk across the street.

McCarthy stepped outside to investigate and arrested Stugaitis who admitted his object was burglary.

Eighth Grade Students Get Ready for Annual Tours to Places of Interest

The eighth grade students at the Harrisburg Junior high school are now making plans for their annual end-of-the-school-year trips which will take them to various places of interest in Illinois and Kentucky.

The money for these journeys is raised by magazine sales during the year, and the length of the trip depends upon the amount each individual sold. There will be three different trips taken this year.

Students having magazine sales above $20 will take a two-day trip, May 20 and 21, to Mammoth Cave, Kentucky, where they will visit "Fairview," the Jefferson Davis memorial; Bowling Green, Western State Teacher's College; Gethsemane, Trappist monastery; St. Joseph's Cathedral, where there are paintings and a bell which was a gift of Louis Philippe.

They will take a guided tour through Mammoth Cave and stay in National Park cabins on the night of May 20, and also visit other interesting points.

St. Louis will be the destiny of pupils selling over $3, and their bus will leave Monday, May 3, for an all-day outing. Points of interest for them will be the MacArthur Bridge, the Admiral excur-

But Harmful in Many Ways, Says Secretary

Stevens Testifies On McCarthy's Fort Monmouth, N. J., Probe

By HERBERT FOSTER
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP)—Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens admitted today that Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's investigation of Ft. Monmouth, N. J., "speeded up" the Army's suspension of some personnel, but he said the inquiry caused "a lot of harm in a lot of ways."

Stevens made the statement in his second day of testimony at the Senate investigating subcommittee's televised hearings on the Army-McCarthy dispute.

Special counsel Ray H. Jenkins turned the questioning to the Ft. Monmouth investigation, which McCarthy conducted last fall, in an effort to establish that G. David Schine was engaged in "spy" work at the time he was drafted into the Army as a private last Nov. 3. Schine was an unpaid consultant to McCarthy's group at that time.

Pressure Accused

The Army has accused McCarthy, subcommittee counsel Roy M. Cohn and others of bringing extreme pressure on the Army to get special treatment for Schine. Stevens said the alleged espionage that McCarthy and his staff investigated at the Signal Corps laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., was "a greatly over-exaggerated situation."

He conceded, under examination by Jenkins, that McCarthy's hearings may have "speeded up" the suspension of some Ft. Monmouth employees as possible security risks. He said the Army was already conducting its own investigation and "ultimately" would have ferreted out all the security risks.

Claims in Contact with FBI
Stevens said a number of times that the Army had "a close relationship with the FBI" on the Ft.

Rev. Radford Says Fine Building No Good Unless People Work

Former Pastor Speaks at Dedication of New Presbyterian Church Structure Here Yesterday

The new Presbyterian church building was formally dedicated Sunday afternoon with Rev. Stewart W. Radford, former pastor of the church preaching the dedication sermon.

The large crowd present heard Rev. Radford tell the Presbyterian congregation that their task was "just beginning" now that they had carried their building program to completion.

"Now that this building is completed, it is time for the congregation to start to work," said Rev. Radford. Using the sermon title, "The Church's Base," the speaker stressed the fact that the church is composed of people and unless the people are willing to work and spread the gospel of Jesus a fine new building is of no use.

A similar theme was the basis of the Sunday morning sermon by Rev. John Paul Vincent, also a former pastor who returned to Harrisburg to participate in the church dedication. Rev. Vincent, preaching on "A Mission to Fulfill," stated the mission of a church is "to make God known, loved and obeyed and that only the individual church member can carry out this mission."

In closing his sermon, Rev. Radford paraphrased one of the questions of Jesus and asked "Can you watch with me and serve with me day after day?" If the members of the congregation will continue to work and serve tirelessly, then "this building will be for a good purpose and the angels will rejoice," Rev. Radford declared.

Included in the program of dedication was the presentation of the keys to the church by Russell Malan, an elder of the church and co-chairman of the building committee, the keys being accepted by Rev. John Emig, church pastor.

Miss Augusta D. Swan of Toledo, Illinois, a daughter of a former pastor of the church, was present. Miss Swan has attended the dedication of the three Presbyterian church buildings in Harrisburg: the first in 1884, another in 1909 and the one just completed. Also introduced was the oldest living member of the church, Mrs. John Crawford "Aunt Carrie" Wilson, who will be 97 years of age the 28th of this month—Wednesday.

Others introduced included Dr. Ralph Cummins of Champaign, general presbyter of the Synod of Illinois, Jack Hale of Ridgway, moderator of Cairo Presbytery and Rev. Glen Daugherty, pastor of the Harrisburg Christian church and president of the Harrisburg Ministerial association.

Yesterday's dedication climaxed a week of special services. Returning for the services were Rev. J. Dayton McCormick, former Harrisburg man who received his early Christian training at the local Presbyterian church and the two former pastors, Rev. Radford and Rev. Vincent.

A reception was held in the lower rooms of the church following the worship services.

Rains .14 Inch Here

Rainfall yesterday afternoon measured .14 inch at the Pankey Branch pumping station, Harrison Kibler reported.

Gwin Davis Dies; Board Member From Mountain Twp.

Gwin Davis

Gwin Davis, 49 years old, Somerset farmer and supervisor of Mountain township, died at 10:45 a. m. today at the Harrisburg hospital, where he had been a patient for a week.

Davis was well-known throughout the county. He was a graduate of the Harrisburg Township high school where he was a track star, running the middle distances, in the early twenties.

Davis' wife, Mable, preceded him in death, dying in 1952.

He is survived by the following children: Mrs. Maxine Belt, Buena Vista; Donald Davis, Pontiac, Mich.; Doyle Davis, near Somerset; Mrs. Shirley Border, Harrisburg; two sons, Leon and Gwin Jr., at home, three grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Oral Walls, Big Ridge; Mrs. Cordis Cuttenger, Battle Creek, Mich.; two brothers, Albert Davis, Manteno; and C. A. Davis, Battle Creek, Mich.

He was a member of the Big Saline church and of the Somerset I. O. O. F. Lowman lodge, No. 736. The body is now at the Harrisburg funeral home, and plans are incomplete.

John Lawrence, 82, Of Stonefort Dies

John Lawrence, 82, who lived in the Zion community east of Ozark, died in the Marion Memorial hospital today at 2 a. m.

The body, after 5 p. m. today, will lie in state at the Thornton funeral home in Stonefort. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Virden Publisher Heads Southern Illinois Editors

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Louis A. Hoeft, publisher of the Virden Recorder, Saturday was named president of the Southern Illinois Editorial Association at the concluding business session of the organization's annual spring meeting at Southern Illinois University and Giant City State Park. He succeeds Frank M. Bond, publisher of the Dongola Tri-County Recorder.

Other officers named were: Paul Vannier, Bluffs Times publisher, vice president; and Robert W. Evans, McLeansboro Times-Leader, secretary-treasurer. Named to the board of directors were: Bond; Victor Leiker, Christopher Progress; Ed Knowles, Elkhart Journal; Frank Ledbetter, Carverville Herald; Bryant Voris, Waterloo Republican; Curtis Small, Harrisburg Daily Register; Kenneth Mohlman, Millstadt Enterprise; Tom Lee, Marissa Messenger; Charles C. Feirich, Metropolis News; Thomas Matthews, Wayne County Press; and Otha Lanier, Shelbyville News.

Nearly 100 editors and publishers attended the meeting which convened on the SIU campus Friday morning and then moved to Giant City State Park Lodge for the evening dinner session. Douglas B. Cornell, Associated Press Washington correspondent, headlined the program with an address at the evening session. Some 40 newspapermen appeared on the program.

VanderPluym Sells Apartments, Keeps Auto Sales Agency

The Varsity apartments facing Cherry street and the building on Vine street housing the Studebaker automobile sales and service agency, including apartments on the second floor, have been sold by the owner, Connie VanderPluym, to Dr. E. M. Travelstead.

The sale, arranged by the Erton Realty Co., was completed Saturday.

Mr. VanderPluym stated today he had sold for reasons of health. He has not been in good health for the past two or three years, and wishes to lessen his responsibilities for that reason. However, he will continue operating his automobile sales and service establishment.

Mr. VanderPluym began operation of the Exide Service Station in the Raley building, immediately across the street from The Daily Register in 1919, and continued use of that building when he erected the apartments and the automobile sales agency building.

Mr. and Mrs. VanderPluym will continue their residence in the Varsity apartment.

Dr. Travelstead stated today that he purchased the buildings purely on an investment basis, and that he believes the future of Harrisburg will justify his action.

He stated he intends to keep the buildings and specifically the apartments modern and up-to-date, as Mr. VanderPluym has done, so they will continue desirable for select tenants.

Wants to Move 1,000 Wounded From Garrison

Asks Peace Parley To Make Gesture that Would Save Men

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault appealed dramatically today for a truce to enable evacuation of 1,000 French wounded in besieged Dien Bien Phu in Indochina.

In an "appeal to the conscience of the civilized world" issued at the Geneva Far Eastern peace conference met in opening session, Bidault declared:

"It would be inconceivable that a conference meeting in Geneva should not open with a gesture to save from the hazards of combat the men who no longer can take part in it because they already have shed their blood. May my appeal, issued from this high place of peace, be heard."

Newsman Not Admitted
Bidault's appeal was published after the conference's first meeting, to which newsmen were not admitted.

The anxiously awaited 19-nation attempt to find peace both for Indochina and Korea narrowly had averted disaster at its outset by a last-minute compromise of Russia's demands that Red China be seated as an equal to the Big Four powers.

The conference marked the first time Red China had sat down with representatives of the Western Allies in a major world parley.

The initial session was brief. It adjourned after 40 minutes devoted to procedural matters and was scheduled to convene again Tuesday.

It was understood the three Western foreign ministers and Molotov would meet during the afternoon in a plenary session.

Red China's claims to share in the council chairmanship on an equal basis with the great power were sidestepped in a private talk between British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. They agreed to rotate the chairmanship among the foreign ministers of Thailand, Britain and Russia.

The compromise arrangement eliminated for the time being at least the question of Red China presiding. Such would have been the case under Russia's original demand that Communist China be

Bulletins

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations committee today approved $28,680,706,500 for President Eisenhower's "new look" military program—a cut of $1,206,348,500 from his request.

The appropriations are for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The funds are $5,632,614,500 less than appropriations voted for this fiscal year ending June 30.

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Georgi Malenkov said today that if the West should attack Russia with atom bombs "the aggressor would be crushed by the same weapon."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson today said that what happens in Europe and Asia in the next few "critical" months may "force a soul-searching review" of American military policy.

GENEVA (AP)—Authoritative American sources said today President Eisenhower may ask Congress "in the very near future" to approve armed U. S. intervention in the Indochina war if necessary to prevent military disaster.

In Washington, Rep. Alvin M. Bentley, (R-Mich.) a member of the House Foreign Affairs committee, said he believes the President will request—and get—congressional approval to send U. S. troops to Indochina if it turns out there is no other way to save the country from Communist conquest.

Papers of Garfield's Son Given to U. S.
WASHINGTON—The papers of the late Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams College and a son of President James A. Garfield, have been presented to the Library of Congress.

The papers, consisting of 58,000 items, date from 1884 to 1942, the year of his death. They include correspondence, reports, diaries, scrapbooks and photographs going from his boyhood and college days through his presidency of Williams College.

Several reports in the collection concern Dr. Garfield's brief term of duty as head of the U. S. Fuel Administration during World War I.

Several photographs and 13 scrapbooks concern the career of President Garfield.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND
By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Dulles Briefs Ambassadors Re Indo-China; Asiatic NATO Is Pushed By Secretary Of State; Rush Trip To Europe Gains French Agreement To Hold Up Indo-China Settlement.

WASHINGTON — Just a few hours before he flew to Geneva, John Foster Dulles, the earnest, indefatigable secretary of state, called in the ambassadors of Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, the Philippines and South Korea to give them a briefing on his hopes and aspirations for the conference opening today.

All were sworn to secrecy. However, here are the highlights of his talk: Red China will not be recognized. The U. S. A. will walk out of the conference rather than desert her smaller allies. There must be complete freedom in Indo-China. France is gradually coming around to this point of view. Under no circumstances will the United States permit Indo-China to come under Communist control. He ducked, however, the question of using U. S. troops.

The above conference, though ambiguous, was pleasant. It offset in part another series of ambassadorial conferences Dulles had with the same envoys approximately two weeks ago — conferences which precipitated the secretary's rush trip to Paris and London to calm down his chief allies.

This whole series of events illustrates our somewhat haphazard, at times disjointed policy regarding Indo-China, in which the vice president says in one speech that we will use troops in Indo-China if necessary, and the secretary of state then says we probably won't.

ENTIRE GENEVA PICTURE
To get the whole picture it's necessary to go back to the beginning when Dulles first attempted to rouse the American public about dangers in Indo-China in his speech before the Council of Foreign Relations. Though it was a vitally important pronouncement of a change in American foreign policy, copies of the speech were sent to allied embassies only four hours in advance, and with no comment or explanation.

But later, the State Department, belatedly realizing that we would need allies in Indo-China, called in the ambassadors chiefly concerned with southeast Asia, including not only those mentioned above, but Indonesia, Burma, India, France and England.

The ambassadors were summoned rather hurriedly, and the Indonesian ambassador, who had asked for an appointment with a minor State Department official over a minor problem, was surprised when told Secretary Dulles himself would see the ambassador.

Puzzled Envoys
Later, some of the ambassadors got peeved because the State Department said they had asked to see Dulles, whereas, Dulles had asked to see them.

However, what really set the diplomatic cables buzzing across two oceans was what Dulles said. He wanted:

1. A stiff, blunt warning by the allies to the Reds in Indo-China — a warning which some envoys feared would be the first step toward war.

2. A NATO defense organization for southeast Asia. However, Dulles didn't have any facts, figures or concrete plans for a NATO, and the first thing the ambassadors did was put their heads together after they left the State Department and compare notes. They weren't at all sure what these State Department talks meant, and some felt that Dulles had gone off half-cocked.

So the British and French envoys, among others, sent hot cables to London and Paris. The repercussions were terrific. Premier Laniel in Paris explained to the American embassy that any such tough action as Dulles contemplated would lead to the downfall of his government. And from London came word that if Dulles persisted in his tough tactics, it would lead to general elections in England.

Anthony Eden reinforced this by suggesting that it might be a good idea for the secretary of state to talk things over in Europe, especially because Churchill was toying with the idea of flying to Washington. Eden knew, of course, that there was nothing that annoyed Eisenhower more than the prospect of shooting in the deaf ear of the venerable prime minister of England regarding the hydrogen bomb and Indo-China.

DULLES QUIETS STORM
So Dulles made his hurried trip. On it he achieved no success in getting a warning to the Reds, or any advance pledge of an Asiatic NATO prior to the Geneva conference. He did get a pledge to consider an Asiatic NATO if the Geneva conference failed.

However, he scored one important unpublicized point. He got a promise from Foreign Minister Bidault that France would not go ahead with its settlement for Indo-China proposed on March 5. This would have meant the loss of part of Indo-China, yet the French were so fed up that they were ready to press for peace at this or almost any price.

Bidault had been talking to the Russians for some time before Dulles got to Paris and had made considerable headway toward a negotiated peace. So Dulles' greatest achievement actually was not mentioned in the cooked-up press releases issued after his talks, but the fact that he stopped the French semi-surrender. In return, he secretly agreed to a cease-fire in Indo-China, if the French can work it out at Geneva without yielding anything important.

Faces 99 Years for Pana Tavern Murder

TAYLORVILLE, Ill. — Frederick Mike Wittke, 36, today faced 99 years in prison for the murder of Pana tavern owner Bert M. Forsythe.

A Christian County Circuit Court jury Saturday night found Wittke guilty of murder and recommended the 99-year term, after deliberating 1 hour and 10 minutes.

Forsythe was cut down by a shotgun blast at his tavern last Dec. 14, the day after he had discharged Wittke. Wittke testified he was drunk and didn't remember anything about the shooting.

American Legion Auxiliary
To Have Child Welfare Program

The American Legion Auxiliary will present at its April 27 meeting a program on Child Welfare. Abiding by one of the oldest principles of the American Legion—"A Square Deal for Every Child"—the Auxiliary considers Child Welfare one of the most important programs on its calendar. Although provisions are made for year-round attention to needy children, the Auxiliary emphasizes Child Welfare during April to promote special projects and interest in the cause.

Mrs. Lillie Wing, Harrisburg Child Welfare chairman, has arranged for Mrs. Fred Bramlet, Eldorado, to speak at the April meeting.

Some of the projects supported by the Department of Child Welfare as outlined to cover the four basic needs of children: (1) physical, (2) mental, (3) emotional, (4) spiritual. The Harrisburg unit contributes to the child welfare which provides for these needs. The unit also sponsors a cottage (or contributes toward the cottage sponsored by the 24th district) at the Illinois Soldiers' and Sailors' Children's School in Normal, Ill., and grants the children personal attention and essentials during the year. It also participates in the annual pilgrimage to Normal in June, by assisting with the arrangements and provisions of a special dinner and entertainment for the children of Oglesby Cottage.

Mrs. Mariam Green, Marion, Mrs. Bea Barnett, Harrisburg, Mrs. Mary Casebier and Mrs. Cuma Leathers, both of Carmi, spent the week-end in Memphis, Tenn. Mrs. Casebier visited with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haepel, while the other ladies attended the Nutrilite "March of Progress" held in the Holiday Inn hotel in Memphis. The business meeting was highlighted with a banquet at 7 p. m. Saturday in the grand ballroom of the hotel. There were approximately 500 guests present with representatives from 20 states.

Stork Shower Held In Honor of Mrs. Glenna Jamerson

The Pontiac, Michigan Sewing club gave a surprise pink and blue shower in honor of Mrs. Glenna Lee Jamerson, a member.

Games were played and prizes were won by Mae White, Gaylene Alexander, Mary Sweat, Shirley White, Helen Blue, Georgia Jamerson, Glenna Lee Jamerson, with the door-prize going to Maxine Sullivan.

After Mrs. Jamerson opened her lovely gifts, refreshments were served to Venita Lewis, Mae White, Jerry Cushman, Mary Sweat, Shirley Motesinger, Velma Shaw, Gaylene Alexander, Georgia Jamerson, Helen Parton, Shirley White, Helen Blue, Maxine Sullivan, Glenna Lee Jamerson and the hostesses, Maxine Hamby and Hattie Sweet.

Several sent gifts who were not able to attend.

Mrs. Mary Stone Hostess
To Union Grove Handicraft

Mrs. Mary Stone was hostess to the Union Grove Handicraft Thursday, April 22, for an all day basket weaving.

It was decided during the business meeting that the Handicraft would discontinue its meetings until September.

Those present were Mrs. Gladys Williams, Mrs. Myrtle Fowler, Mrs. Ellen Waladis, Mrs. Beulah Reynolds, Mrs. Edna Conwell and Emily Jean. Mrs. Lizzie Clark, Mrs. Venita Bond and Susan, Mrs. Mildred Arnold and the hostess, Mrs. Mary Stone.

Mrs. Ella K. Moseley, Metropolis, was presented the State Scroll for Mother of the Year yesterday afternoon at the First Christian church in Metropolis. Those attending the service from Harrisburg were Mrs. L. N. Davenport, Mrs. Mary Musgrave, Mrs. Clyde Pittman, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Porter. Mrs. Roy Seel, Ozark, and Mrs. Roy Melburn, New Burnside, also attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Cannon and son, Edwin, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chaney and son, Jimmy, spent the weekend in Monroe City, Mo., guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bass Pelhank and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jackson and family. The Jacksons are parents of a baby daughter born February 21 and named Elizabeth Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Upchurch of Pontiac, Mich., are visiting in Harrisburg and vicinity with relatives and friends. They are staying at the Pine Rest motel west of Harrisburg and expect to be here until Thursday. Mr. Upchurch, a newspaperman, worked on the Illinois Miner in Harrisburg, but left here about 35 years ago and this is his first visit back.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hudnell and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Gholson spent Saturday in Springfield visiting Mrs. Loren Belt, Taylorville, who is in St. John's hospital. Mrs. Belt's room number is 456.

Tests to Establish Norms for State Given At Carrier Mills High

Students of Carrier Mills Community High school last week participated in the University of Illinois state-wide testing program to establish norms for high school students in the state.

The tests were administered by personnel of the university at CMCHS last Thursday. The university personnel were traveling by plane to a few selected high schools in various areas of the state.

A change is planned in the University testing program, making it necessary to establish norms to interpret the results obtained from tests given next year.

The testing program will include the newly-developed Illinois Natural science reading tests, which will be used in place of the California tests of mental maturity and the physical science reading tests.

The tests at CMCHS were administered to sophomores and juniors only and required approximately two and a half hours total testing time. Warren Jennings, CMCHS principal stated.

Woman Who Lived Here Dies at Poplar Bluff

Mrs. Floyd Billington, former resident of Harrisburg and Eldorado, recently of Campbell, Mo., where she had lived for several months, died in a hospital at Poplar Bluff, Mo., Sunday morning.

The funeral will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at Campbell, and burial will be there.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Carrie Ayers, Harrisburg, and Mrs. Allie Dalton of Michigan.

Two American Soldiers Strangle, Kill Korean

CHITOSE, Japan (UP)—Two American soldiers have admitted they strangled a Korean tavern operator who caught them rifling his strong box, Army officials announced today.

The Army identified the men as Pfc. Richard Crews, 26, Cannonsburg, Miss., and Pfc. Percy I. Scott, 27, Chicago.

Mostly Natives at U. of I.

CHAMPAIGN (UP)—Eighty-eight per cent of the students of the University of Illinois are Illinois residents, the U. of I. reported today.

Twelfth Juror
Sought to Hear
Metropolis Trial

METROPOLIS, Ill. (UP)—Twelve more veniremen were to be questioned this afternoon in an effort to find the 12th juror for the murder trial of Ophie Evans Jr.

In addition, the Massac County sheriff's office prepared subpoenas to summon more veniremen if necessary as jury selection moved toward the seventh day.

About 250 prospective jurors have been questioned. Three were chosen Saturday afternoon breaking a precedent of seating four jurors at a time.

Evans, 16, is accused of the fatal shooting of his father in the front yard of their home here last June.

See Illinois Now Slogan Adopted to Urge Residents to Visit Scenic Spots

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — "See Illinois Now."

That is the slogan that has been adopted by a group of Illinois state departments in a campaign designed to encourage residents of the state to see more of the scenic spots of their native land.

Governor William G. Stratton has given hearty approval to the program. In commenting on the plan, Governor Stratton said: "Spring months are ideal for short travel vacations of one or two day durations. They are a great cure for spring fever and satisfy the urge to travel, especially among those who did not take winter vacations."

"Illinois offers a widely scenic and historic display from the gently rolling waters of the Ohio river along its southern boundary to the sunswet beaches of Lake Michigan."

"Weekend or midweek trips to a number of places in Illinois will reward the traveler with an outstanding amount of pleasure and an opportunity to see and learn more about the different areas of the great state in which we live."

"I venture to say that among our many millions of citizens the majority of those residing in the northern portion of Illinois have never been in the central or southern sections of the state and the same goes for residents of the latter two areas. They probably have missed most of the scenic beauty of our northern counties."

Cooperating in the statewide campaign to acquaint Illinois people with their home state are the Department of Public Works and Buildings, the Department of Public Safety, the Division of Parks and Memorials in the Department of Conservation and the Division of Reports in the Department of Finance.

The former supervises the state's massive highway system connecting the north with the south and the east with the west in Illinois. The Department of Safety provides the Illinois State Highway Police to look to the safety of the motoring public.

The Division of Parks and Memorials maintains an outstanding system of parks located in all sections of the state and designed to provide wholesome recreational areas throughout the year.

Make Advance Reservations
The Division of Department Reports is charged with the responsibility of publicizing the tremendous natural resources of Illinois both within the state and throughout the nation.

While the present program is designed chiefly in the interest of the motoring public it is possible to reach most points in the state by railroad or by airplane or by bus. So if you don't drive an automobile you don't have to pass up the invitation to visit another area of the state from the one in which you live. Take a train, plane or bus.

Many state parks have accommodations for overnight guests but you should make reservations in advance through the Division of Parks, State Armory Bldg., Springfield. Hotels and motels are available in nearly every community in the state. Advance reservations are suggested for these accommodations. Also plan your trip and then contact a hotel or motel operator if you decide to make it an overnight adventure.

Illinois Peach Crop About Same as 1953

CHICAGO—The 1954 commercial peach crop in Illinois will probably total 750,000 bushels, the same as last year, according to Harold Kaeser, general manager of the Illinois Fruit Growers Exchange, Carbondale.

"There has been very little freeze damage so far when the crop as a whole is considered," Kaeser reports.

The Illinois Fruit Growers Exchange is a fruit marketing cooperative affiliated with the Illinois Agricultural Association, statewide Farm Bureau organization.

BRAIDED BEAUTY—A golden cage with birds was the eye-catcher at a recent swimming-suit show in Paris, France. The three bottom rows and the bars running down from the neck band are braided in golden threads. White birds give the suit a three-dimensional look.

St. Louis Woman, 28, Wins 'Mrs. America' Title, Gets Florida Trip

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UP) — Mrs. Wanda Jennings, 28, "Mrs. America of 1955," celebrated a two-week expense-paid vacation with her family here with more housework today.

Her cooking, sewing, and cleaning which won the title for the tall, blonde beauty over the weekend is a hobby for Mrs. Jennings and she declared, "I'm still a housewife."

Mrs. Jennings, of St. Louis, Mo., moved into the "Mrs. America" cottage here for the two-week vacation with her husband, Madison, and their son Mike, 8, after receiving the award in a pageant Saturday night.

Predict President to Call for Full Review Of Legislative Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders speculated today that President Eisenhower soon may call for a full-scale review of his legislative program. The idea of a review would be to decide just what has been accomplished so far, what must be finished before adjournment in July, and what will have to be set aside for the time being.

HTHS Teacher Named Group's Vice President

Mrs. Arcile Reese, Anna, Friday night was elected president of the Southern Illinois Business Education association during the organization's annual spring meeting at Southern Illinois university. She succeeds Mrs. Margaret Harris, Du Quoin.

Others elected were: Mrs. Pearl Parkhurst, Harrisburg high school teacher, vice president; Mrs. Clela Whitacre, Marion, secretary-treasurer; and Eugene Vaughn, Carbondale, member of the executive committee.

Nearly 50 teachers of business subjects in southern Illinois schools attended the Friday meeting.

California Hard Up For Publicity; Read This

The voice trailed away for a moment, and Jim waited tensely. Even his short glancing over the manuscript of the school play let him recognize the origin of those words from the prologue.

Mansfield repeated them: "We give you then, our hero, a young boy Who hails the granting of his wish with joy Who knows himself a princeling in disguise Yet wears a form all people must despise Until that day when granting of his wish (Commanded magically, a single swish Of fairy wand) brings changes vast And he can take his place at last With all the rest. Unnoticed in the mass."

Mansfield stopped abruptly, and he moved restlessly. The nurse bustled, hovered above him. "We're feeling so much better now, aren't we? Everything's just fine now, isn't it?"

The final service was over at last. No more words now for Otto Drover. He would stay there on the sun-swept grassy hillside with the dead for company.

Joan Richards had her arm around Nancy, but she leaned more on Mary Holt for actual support. Jim intercepted them, disregarding the frowns of warning which Mark Richards sent toward him.

"Nancy," Jim said. She looked through him. She took her hand from Mary Holt's arm, and used it to cover her eyes. She quickened her guided steps toward the waiting car.

Jim tried to follow, found his path blocked effectively by Mary Holt.

"She asked for you. And you weren't there," Mrs. Holt said. "She needed you, and you weren't there. Why did you do that to her? I thought you cared for her?"

"I love her," Jim Dunn said, and for the first time realized the overpowering truth of those words.

Mary Holt's face lost its grimace. "There must have been a good reason," she did not say it as a question.

"Yes. A reason. But does that make any difference now?" "No. Not now." There was both understanding and sadness in the old woman's voice.

"She'll never forgive me," Jim's voice was dull, lifeless.

"Never? A long time, Jim. And 10 manuscripts, all hand written in the neat script, and he had begun his reading at the one dated the earliest.

"Brought out the things you asked for," Richards said.

"How's Nancy?" Jim asked.

Richards avoided his eyes. "How are you getting along with your reading?"

"I've skimmed through one, and part of another. Mary Holt outlined the stories pretty well for me. Or at least the last one Mansfield had published, and I can't see much difference. It's all about this sensitive, noble man, who was hurt, disillusioned and ruined by the machinations of a golden-haired siren who did not appreciate him."

Jim looked down at the pages before him. "So far the second one is the same. Or, as they say on TV, only the names have been changed to protect the innocent."

Now that the primary is over, Stratton can be expected to do some slam-bang campaigning. He stuck to his aloof neutrality in the Republican primary but now that candidates have been selected the nominees probably will be found on the same speaking platform as the Governor comes into their county or district to address political rallies or civic groups.

One scheduled appearance of Stratton's which could be a mecca for Republican candidates is the May 13 appointment he has at Alton to accept a 14 1/2 mile right-of-way between Alton and Grafton for use as an extension of the McAdams Memorial highway to Grafton. The occasion is nonpolitical but it could be an opportunity for some coat-tail riding.

Alton is in Madison county, which with adjacent St. Clair county, is usually strong Democratic territory. Right now all Madison county offices are held by Democrats and congressman from the district is a Democrat and two of the senatorial district's representatives are Democrats. Republicans hold the state senatorship and one seat in the Illinois House.

This fall the Madison county GOP will be seeking to help elect a Republican congressman, retain the state senatorship, elect two state representatives and break through the Democratic grip on the county offices. However, as the affair is nonpartisan Democrat office holders as well as Democratic candidates will probably be present in sizeable numbers and perhaps thus offset any possible tinge of partisanship.

Boy Scout groups at Belleville, Joliet and other places in the state are credited by Illinois Conservation Director Glen Palmer, Yorkville, for assists they have given conservation. They are listed in an appeal by Palmer to sportsmen's groups to take an active part in helping the Scouts carry out their 1954 slogan, "A Good Turn for Conservation."

Palmer said that Boy Scouts in the Belleville region helped the Sugar Creek-Looking Glass Township Sportsmen's club near Belleville, plant 500 pine trees and 1,000 multiflora roses on the club grounds northeast of Trenton in Clinton county near U. S. 50, under the supervision of R. D. Casey of the department's game management division.

The Rainbow Council of Boy Scouts at Joliet, he said, is co-operating with the Troy Sportsmen's club of Will county, in a multiflora rose and tree planting program in which the state furnishes some stock and technical advice on plant practices. The rainbow scouts, he said, also are working on a "clean river" program with the assistance of the department.

Palmer said the conservation department has been swamped with requests from Boy Scout councils and individual troops for assistance in performing their 1954 "good turn" since inauguration of the Scouts' 1954 conservation program. A Winnebago county group of sportsmen and farmers, he said, has a program which will enlist the aid of 7,700 Scouts in the Blackhawk council.

One Winnebago project calls for an experiment with cold water streams in the county in an effort to find the best methods for keeping streams clear and useful, especially for fish life. The projects also call for planting trees along some streams, building small dams,

Giant Clams
Clams three feet long, with a valve spread of two feet, can rightfully be claimed giants among their tribe. These mammoth creatures are abundant on Pixie Reef, near the Great Barrier Reef, and, at low tide, hundreds of them, some weighing as much as 400 pounds, pose hazards to those exploring the reefs.

The Krag-Jorgenson rifle was used by the United States Army up to 1904, when it was replaced by the Springfield.

Massac, Pike and Hamilton counties will touch off the Illinois fair season. Each have scheduled exhibitions for the same time July 1 through July 5. The Massac fair will be at Metropolis, with State Rep. Paul Powell, Vienna, in charge; Pike's will be at Griggsville, with J. R. Skinner, the manager; and Hamilton's will be at McLeansboro, supervised by H. Mead, McLeansboro.

According to the State Department of Agriculture, Illinois will be the scene of 97 downstate fairs this year, that number having filed declarations of intention in order to qualify for state premium aid. The big Du Quoin Fair, second to the State Fair at Springfield, will be held at Du Quoin August 29 to Sept. 6 inclusive with D. M. Hayes, Du Quoin, the manager.

Merchants Tame Carmi, Rainfall Shortens Contest

Rain washed out the ball game between the Harrisburg Merchants and the Carmi Epworth Texacos yesterday afternoon just after the four and one half inning mark as the locals copped their fourth win of the season by a 5 to 2 score. The game was being played at the Park Diamond when Jupiter Pluvius interrupted and put an end to the proceedings.

Buzz Kennedy was on the hill for the locals and he was opposed by another lefty, Clark of the Texacos, until the fourth stanza when Gene Ackermann took over the pitching chores for the visitors. Kennedy scattered five hits while the locals could gather only four during their turns at the plate. Walks, however, aided the locals whereas Kennedy was close with free transportation and issued only three bases on balls. The locals were gifted with seven walks and a hit batsman.

Scoring started in the third inning as the locals tallied twice as Dick Odle walked, advanced to second on Bill McNew's sacrifice bunt and scored when Junior Dunbar drove a long triple to deep centerfield. Dunbar tallied on Jim Parton's single. Walks to Logsdon, Kennedy, Odle, McNew and Guiley and Dunbar's double netted the Merchants their final three tallies in the fourth. The visitors scored their runs in the fifth when Mitchell walked, Rudolph tripled and Hines singled.

Dick Romonosky was the locals' receiver and the visitors had E. Stewart and Mitchell splitting the catching duties.

Wednesday night the Merchants play the Paducah Chiefs there and Sunday local fans will get another opportunity to see "Showboat" Patterson, the classy receiver who so pleased the spectators in his previous appearance here last season, when the Mayfield Blackhawks come in for a game at the park diamond. The Merchants hold a win over the Blackhawks this season; so the visitors will come up to try to even the count.

Raleigh Woman's Club Meets at Spurlock Home

The Woman's club of Raleigh met at the home of Mrs. Blanche Spurlock Thursday for its regular meeting with a potluck dinner at noon consisted of chicken and all the trimmings.

Following the noon meal the business meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Carl Dillbeck. The group repeated the Lord's Prayer. The minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Stella Smith, and the treasurer's report was given by the treasurer, Mrs. Tessie Carlyle.

The club appointed Mrs. Spurlock and Mrs. Carlyle to go to Shawneetown to attend a meeting as delegates for the club, which will be held next Thursday, April 29.

Members present were: Mrs. Lillie Cable, Mrs. Stella Smith, Mrs. Elsie Hale, Mrs. Tessie Carlyle, Mrs. Iva Dillbeck, Mrs. Mary Moore, Mrs. Tillie Stricklin and the hostess, Mrs. Spurlock.

Among the visitors present were Mrs. Spurlock's daughter, Mrs. Betty Finley and children, Evansville, Ind., Mrs. Laura Pickle, Mrs. Freda Spurlock, Mrs. Finley, owner and operator of the Good Shepherd Nursing home in Eldorado, Oscar Cable and Bill Smith.

Since the regular meeting will be at the home of Mrs. John Hale, and the new officers will be installed by Mrs. Bess Hunter, Eldorado. The president asked that all members be present, and visitors are welcome.

Raleigh P. T. A. Meets In Grade School Gym

The Raleigh P. T. A. met Friday evening in the Raleigh grade school gym. The guest speaker, Rev. Cloyd Wesley, gave an interesting speech. Another special feature was a musical program by the first and second grades. Margaret Ann Tate played a piano solo, "My Little Boy Blue" was sung by Patricia Williams, and a play, "An Easter Bunny Mix Up," was presented by the pupils. Donna Downey did the announcing.

In the business session it was voted that the men would serve pie and coffee to the women at the next meeting, May 21, which is "Mother's Night." The men are to make the pies, serve, and following the meal, wash dishes. Cecil Fulkerson, principal, stated that the women will be free as birds. Mothers, don't forget this meeting is only held once a year; therefore, we must take advantage of it.

It was voted at the meeting to send a delegate, expenses paid, to the state meeting to be held at Springfield. No one was elected to go; therefore, it was left open for a volunteer delegate to go.

Rev. Todd Taylor and John Peyton went to Kentucky Lake on a fishing trip recently.

Fain Out of Doghouse, Aids Chi-Sox; Cards Win Long Tilt, 2 Shutouts by Giants

By CAL LUNDQUIST

United Press Sports Writer
Manager Paul Richards of the White Sox said that one of the "musts" for a successful season this year would be a comeback by first baseman Ferris Fain and at the moment it is no coincidence that the curly-haired Californian is red hot and Chicago is in first place.

Last season Fain was in Richards' doghouse so much that the wisecrackers said he even barked for his breakfast, but he isn't in the kennel club any more.

Sunday, as the White Sox scored 3-2 and 4-3 victories over Baltimore to take over undisputed possession of first place in the American League, Fain hit a bases-loaded single in the bottom of the ninth to bring home the winning run in the second game. It was his third hit, boosting his runs batted in total to 12, tops for the league. His hits also put his batting average at .333. In the opener, Virgil Trucks pitched seven-hit ball for his second victory as Sherman Lollar hit a homer for the margin of victory. Al Carrasquel hit a second Yankee Split.

The Yankees topped the Athletics, 6-1, then lost 4-2, while Cleveland beat Detroit 10-9 in 10 innings and Washington defeated Boston, 5-1.

In the National League, the Giants made it three shutouts in a row over the Phils by blanking them 3-0 and 5-0 as Sal Maglie gave up five hits and Johnny Antonelli doled out three. Pittsburgh topped Brooklyn 9-3, then lost 4-2, while Chicago pounded out a 9-2 conquest of Cincinnati, then suffered a 3-2 setback. St. Louis defeated Milwaukee 7-6 in 12 innings.

Jim McDonald gained a six-hit triumph for the Yankees over lefty Alex Kellner in the opener at Philadelphia. McDonald was backed up with homers by Jerry Coleman, Phil Rizzuto and Bill Skowron.

In the second game, lefty Morris Martin held the Yankees to five hits in eight innings. The Athletics rallied in the curfew-shortened game when a walk, singles by Gus Zernial and Don Bollig, and Bill Rema's sacrifice fly produced two runs.

Homer for Philley
Dave Philley hit a two-run homer in the 10th in Cleveland's victory after Wally Westlake paced the Indians earlier with two homers, accounting for four runs.

Lefty Chuck Stobbs scattered seven hits to gain his first victory for Washington, but had to walk on eggs—goose eggs, that is—until the Nats scored five runs in the eighth.

Maglie pitched his third straight triumph for the Giants in a battle with southpaw Curt Simmons which went scoreless until Don Mueller singled home a run in the seventh of the opener. In the second game, two-run homers by Monte Irvin and Hank Thompson and a run-scoring single by Whitey Lockman provided Antonelli all the margin he needed for his second triumph.

Pirates Get Batted
Pittsburgh batted around in two big innings, the first when they scored four runs and the seventh when they made five in the opening triumph over Brooklyn in which Frank Thomas hit a three-run homer and Curt Roberts drilled a three-run double. Vern Law struggled to a 12-hit victory. In the second game lefty Johnny Podres tossed a three-hitter and contributed a run-scoring triple.

At Cincinnati, Bubba Church of the Cubs pitched six-hit ball against his old mates while Randy Jackson pegged his major league batting average at .500 with a homer and two singles. In the second game, rookie Art Fowler pitched four-hit ball as lefty Howie Pollet forced home the winning run. Hank Sauer and Dee Fondy hit homers for the only Chicago runs. In the opener Ralph Kiner also homered for the Cubs while Ted Kluszewski and Wally Patt homered for the Reds.

Jim Pendleton dropped Red Schoendienst's fly with the bases loaded in the 12th and two out to give St. Louis its victory. Ed Mather hit a two-run homer in the ninth for Milwaukee to send the game into extra frames. Hank Aaron of the Braves and Stan Musial of the Cards also hit homers.

Sunday's Stars: Sal Maglie and Johnny Antonelli of the Giants, who pitched shutouts over the Phils, 3-0 and 5-0.

Stan the Man Far Ahead of His 1953 Self

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals' six-time National League champion, is four months ahead of his 1953 pace.

Musial boasted a .316 batting average today — a figure which he did not reach until Sept. 6, 1953, after getting off to one of the worst starts in his brilliant career.

Washington wound up with 5 1-2 points and Eldorado got 11 in the West Frankfort relays, held Saturday. East St. Louis won the meet.

Harrisburg's points came from Bob Beal's second in the shot put and his tie for fourth in the discus.

Eldorado got theirs with Paul Mackovjak's third in the discus and placing in the 88-yard, mile and distance medley relays.

Eldorado is host to Carmi in a duel meet this afternoon. Last week the Eagles beat Carmi 69-54 and took Fairfield, 96-26.

Fight Situation—How It Stacks Up IN THE Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — With two title fights already on the docket and three others coming due soon because of the fistie statute of limitations, the boxing fan finally appears to be in for a double portion of worthwhile action.

Heavyweight king Rocky Marciano and lightweight champ Paddy DeMarco are listed for June defenses against Ezzard Charles and Jimmy Carter respectively. Welterweight boss Kid Gavilan, lightweight champion Archie Moore and featherweight ruler Sandy Saddler, just out of service, all must risk their bables in the near future.

Ordinarily you might think that this merely would serve to lop off the cream of the contenders.

Not so. Because whether you noticed it or not a bunch of young hopefuls have been busy pounding out experience—and they'll fight that much harder with the knowledge that the boys in the front row are being knocked down.

One such is Paolo Rosi, the Italian lightweight who has scored 22 knockouts in 26 bouts and goes against Orlando Zuleta on the Friday night television screen. The Carter-DeMarco title bout on June 2 will clear up that little affair, there being no return bout to attract. Rosi figures as the next draw for the winner and he'll be battling hard to stay up there.

Some of these lads perhaps are being brought along too fast, like Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson. It wouldn't be too surprising to see them throw him to Marciano in September if the champ succeeds in his title defense against Charles on June 17.

Jackson's rise truly has been phenomenal. So he flattened Rex Layne, beat Clarence Henry and stopped Dan Bucceroni, who was rated No. 3 among the heavyweights. But it seems inconceivable that after only 18 bouts he would be put through a meat grinder ala Marciano.

The Hurricane blows again tonight at Eastern Parkway, known as the "House of Upsets," against Jimmy Slade. The latter for publicity purposes has been designated as a "spoiler," but with a record of nine losses in 32 fights he has been spoiled a bit, too.

Gavilan figures to pick Carmen Basilio for his defense, which would be a fine bout. A better one would be if they made him take on Johnny Saxton.

Moore's effort may be against Harold Johnson, but young Paul Andrews is crowding into the picture fast—and will fight hard to keep coming. Saddler must make a quick defense and the talk is that Lulu Perez will get the shot.

Meanwhile, the young guys keep hammering. The big moments came, of course, with a title at stake. But while every time one goes up for grabs the waiting line gets shorter, the fellows doing the waiting fight that much harder to brighten their future chances.

Harrisburg, Eldorado Get Points in Annual West Frankfort Relays

Harrisburg wound up with 5 1-2 points and Eldorado got 11 in the West Frankfort relays, held Saturday. East St. Louis won the meet.

WES DOES IT AGAIN—Wes Santee hits the tape to bring Kansas a new, record-breaking 3:21.4 victory with his sprint medley triumph at the 45th Drake Relays, in Des Moines, Iowa. The time beat the American record of 3:22.7, and shattered the 12-year-old Drake record of 3:23. Gene Maynard, behind Santee, brought Illinois second-place laurels. (NEA Telephoto)

Santee Pushes Kansas to Top In Drake Relays

By United Press

Thanks mainly to the brilliance of Wes Santee, his Kansas teammates, and a band of fleet Texans, the Drake Relays emerged "triumphant" today in their annual "battle" against the Penn Relays with the better performances in 12 of 18 events.

Santee sparked the University of Kansas to four titles in the Drake competition at Des Moines, Iowa, and the Jayhawks' time in three of those events was better than the winning time at the corresponding events at the Penn carnival in Philadelphia.

The University of Texas also won four crowns at the Drake games, two of them relay titles and two individual gold medals, and once again three of their performances bettered the Penn events.

Santee, who has run the mile faster than any American in history, emerged from the busy baton-passing weekend as the top individual star. Friday the lanky Jayhawk ran the anchor leg as Kansas set a new collegiate record of 3:21.4 for the sprint medley. On Saturday, he blazed through a 4-07 mile as Kansas set an American record of 9:59.4 for the distance medley. Kansas also won the two-mile relay in 17:34.7 and the four-mile in 17:35.4.

Only the four-mile relay time was bettered in the Penn games where Indiana sped to victory in 17:32.8.

Nash Nine Loses Out In Wild 8th Frame

The Nash baseball club traveled to Springfield Sunday and absorbed a 12-6 defeat.

The locals out hit Springfield 11 to 7, but had a bad eighth inning defensively and allowed six unearned runs to cross the plate in this frame.

Parker started on the hill for Nash, giving up three hits and four runs in six innings, leaving the game winning 6 to 4. He was replaced by Dick Vinson, who gave up four hits and eight runs, being the victim of the wild 8th in which the locals seemed to be able to do nothing right. He was relieved by Roark, a young southpaw, who struck out two batters to end the nightmare.

Ziegler, with three hits in five trips, paced Nash in the hitting department, followed by K. Nolen with two for five and Bill Fulkerson with two for four.

Parker, Sisk, Wilson and Harrison each delivered one safe blow.

Next Sunday Nash will travel to Cartersville to play the All Stars, one of the stronger clubs in this area.

Correlation Proves Self in Wood, Ready for Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A field of "about 15" starters shaped up today for Saturday's Kentucky Derby, with Correlation the favorite.

With only one more Derby test to be run—the Derby Trial here Tuesday—Correlation strengthened his standing as the horse to beat by his brilliant three-and-a-half length victory in the Wood Memorial last Saturday at New York.

That win gave the California colt victories over two of his three top challengers for the Derby.

Correlation earlier this year beat Goyamo, the Kentucky Colt from Woodville Farm, in the Florida Derby. In beating Fisherman last Saturday, he left only Determine off his list of top victims.

Both Correlation and Fisherman came out of the Wood in good shape. The California comet was due to leave New York by plane today for Churchill Downs. Fisherman will be galloped at Belmont Park, and if he passes the test, transportation arrangements will be made for his southern trip.

Sand in Ketchup's OK--If It's Silicone

By JAMES FLOWERS
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — (NEA) The next time you get sand in your eyes or shoes, don't fuss. For this up-per-crust substance of Mother Earth is the basic ingredient of a new chemical that's making life easier and better for you these days.

From the sand comes silicon and from the silicon—mixed with coal and oil—comes the new-comer, "silicone."

Silicones are being used with remarkable success in 30 major areas producing industrial and consumer items. For instance, this versatile material is helping to reduce vibration in automobiles, and it is also being used in completely unrelated products such as skin creams, which have worked wonders on things like diaper rash. Once regarded as a post-war curiosity, silicones are fast moving into a vast new industrial and consumer end-use pattern. In fact, the industry has expanded 25 times in the past nine years, and forecasts predict it will treble in the next five years alone.

Several major companies are experimenting with silicone. General Electric, for example, began research on organic compounds of the material back in 1932.

Why is an electric company in the chemical business? Well, G. E. has been producing chemicals for their own use for many years, and occasionally they come up with a product that looks good for the consumer market. They figure silicone is a cinch to help the public get their money's worth when they make a purchase.

Take textiles. Fabrics treated with silicones shed beverages and many food-stuffs without being stained. They are also provided with a durable water-repellency, often for the life of the garment, and have an excellent wrinkle recovery.

Recently, the Cravanette Co., of Hoboken, N. J., completed intensive tests on silicone-treated garments. Officials there say non-oily spots may easily be removed from a suit by simply sponging with a damp cloth. And oily spots can be eradicated by regular dry cleaning or laundering.

Even though it will cost approximately five or six cents to treat a garment with three yards of cloth, textile manufacturers are enthusiastic about the new process.

Dr. Charles E. Reed, general manager of the silicone products department of G. E., puts it this way: "The textile manufacturers feel they can increase their sales by giving the consumers a superior garment. We estimate one out of every four persons will buy a garment treated with silicone in 1954."

The glassware industry is reaping fine benefits from the use of silicone. Bottles treated with the chemical have shown a remarkably low breakage percentage during packing and shipping.

The Brockway Glass Co., producers of ketchup bottles, baby food jars, fruit juice bottles and liquor and soft drink containers, recently reported a drop from the normal 0.3 per cent breakage to 0.014 per cent after a six-month test with siliconized bottles.

Dr. Reed adds that bottle interiors treated with silicone permits easy drainage of fluids, foods and pharmaceuticals.

If you've got a large family think what you'll save on baby bottle breakage over a few months. Silicone rubber nipples will also stand repeated steam sterilization, yet they won't clog or get limp.

In its commonest form — water white oil—this amazing chemical can be poured in subzero cold, and yet survive heat up to 600 degrees F. That's why you'll soon be getting a vibrationless auto ride with all-weather transmission fluids and shock absorbers made of silicone.

As a defoamer, only a drop or two of silicone is needed to burst millions of bubbles. Industry, therefore, is saving millions of dollars annually by sharply decreasing foaming problems in vats and kettles. Beer makers, however, aren't interested.

Silicone also keeps tires and other molded rubber and plastic parts from sticking in molds during manufacture because it's an excellent release agent. This cuts rejects and speeds production.

"Millions of combinations are theoretically possible by altering the structure of the silicone chain chemically," says Dr. Reed. "This means that the growth of the silicone-producing industry has just begun."

The leather industry stands to benefit greatly from this new chemical. For silicone penetrates the leather deeply and gives protection from water and moisture. At the same time the leather re-

Some shoe manufacturers are already experimenting with silicone and report good results. Although it costs about 10 cents to treat the leather for a pair of shoes, they believe the added cost Monmouth situation before McCarthy began his investigations.

He denied he had tried to stop or discredit the McCarthy investigation.

Jenkins tried repeatedly to get Stevens to say McCarthy and his committee had performed a "vital" or "invaluable" national service by investigating Ft. Monmouth. Stevens refused to make such a sweeping statement, and finally said:

"I think it would have been far more effective if he had not pursued publicity tactics that were used" at Ft. Monmouth. He added that the publicity at Ft. Monmouth "did a lot of harm."

"A great deal of misinformation and excitement was caused," he said.

Jenkins said Stevens had "damned him (McCarthy) with faint praise" and "minimized the importance of his work."

Stevens also testified that:

1. McCarthy attempted at least twice—Dec. 10, 1953, and Jan. 14, 1954—to have Schine's Army basic training period cut in half—to eight weeks instead of the customary 16. Schine was drafted on Nov. 3. His basic training was not cut.

2. McCarthy's subcommittee counsel, Roy M. Cohn, used his high office "to seek a perversion of the rules of the Army" to get special favors for Schine.

3. The senator never spoke to him again about young Schine after Stevens, in their Jan. 14 meeting, mentioned a Dec. 22 letter McCarthy had written him. In that letter McCarthy said: "Neither I nor anyone in my behalf shall ever attempt to interfere with or influence the Army in its assignments, promotions etc."

4. The attitude of Francis P. Carr, executive director of the McCarthy subcommittee, was largely "passive" in the Schine case. All
